How will my child get to/from campus?

All students must arrive on their own (no transportation can be provided by Gateway). Students can take public transit, walk/bike/skate, or be dropped off via car.

What is the guidance around physical spacing between teachers and students?

SFDPH recommends social distancing of a minimum of 3 feet in school settings, and we will seek to maintain 6 feet of distance whenever possible. If teachers need to be closer to students (examples: handing a student something; pointing out something on their paper) the interaction will be kept as brief as possible.

Will the staff be vaccinated?

While we cannot require vaccination of staff, we are encouraging all staff to get vaccinated. Although we cannot disclose medical information, we can report that many of our staff and faculty have been fully vaccinated since becoming eligible for the vaccine in March 2021. Regardless of vaccination status, all staff and students are required to wear masks and maintain distance whenever they are on campus.

Does my child have to be vaccinated to attend?

No. We are not requiring vaccination for students. All students, regardless of vaccination status, will be required to wear a mask and distance from others when on campus.

How can my child get vaccinated?

Youth 16 and older are now eligible to be vaccinated. Find a location here. Youth 15 and under will need to wait for FDA approval of use in people their age. We will update the community as we learn more about vaccination guidelines for young people 15 and under.

What if my child doesn't want to go to campus?

My child is nervous/anxious - Some students are nervous about coming back to school. They might think it is going to be scary, or awkward, or unsafe. Please reassure them that we are following all CDC and SFDPH health guidance to keep them safe.

My child is feeling disconnected from school - Some students might feel lethargic or even depressed after so much time at home, and leaving the house for school feels like "too much" to them. These events are designed to be fun, casual, and welcoming, and to help them reconnect with their classmates in a small group setting.

My child is not mentally/emotionally ready to socialize with classmates yet - Coming back to school might feel strange, awkward, or stressful. All events are designed to help ease these tensions and make students feel connected again.

Students who have already attended report that while it feels weird to be back on campus for the first few minutes, the events are fun and well worth the time! This is why these events are so important.

What if I am concerned about my child contracting COVID, or exposing members of our household (elderly grandparents, parents, immunocompromised family members, etc.)?

We are following all SFDPH guidelines around health and safety protocols. All participants will be health screened prior to attending, including a temperature check. Students will only be in small groups and all contacts will be traced should a confirmed case of COVID be identified at any point. Studies done in other school reopenings indicate that school is a low-risk activity if masks are worn consistently and distancing is practiced. However, this activity is entirely optional and your child does not have to attend if you or they are not ready to return to campus.

What if I am concerned about my child's physical safety en route to/from school?

We recognize that this past year has been scary for many of us beyond just the pandemic, particularly for families of color. In light of recent events, we know that our Black and Asian families in particular have fears around the safety of their loved ones in the world. Many families are choosing to drop their children off directly to/from school. For students who don't have that option, some are finding a "travel buddy" to take public transit or walk with to reach campus. If you have safety concerns and want support making a plan that will feel good to you and your student, please reach out to us.

What if I am concerned about COVID safety while my child is en route to school?

We understand that commuting to school can raise concerns. If you are not able to personally drop your child off via private car, they can walk/bike/skate, take public transportation, or be transported via someone else's car (such as Lyft/Uber or a taxi). All of these activities require all participants to be masked. Walking or biking to school is safest because your child will be outdoors the entire time, which reduces the risk of transmission. If they take public transit or a ride-share car, there are requirements about distancing, mask-wearing, and having windows open during the ride which reduce risk of transmission.
